Subject: Notification of Distribution Support Agreement for S-61 material

Sikorsky Aircraft Corporation, a Lockheed Martin Company is pleased to announce that it has named United Aero Group LLC (UAG) of Shelton, CT, as a Domestic Distributor of its products supporting the S-61 and its derivative model helicopters.

As a Domestic Distributor of S-61 products, UAG will provide 24/7 customer support in all areas of material support including spares, repairs, and exchanges. Since 2007, UAG has been an industry leader in providing both products and services to the rotary wing market. Sikorsky is confident that UAG's new role as a Domestic Distributor for S-61 products will help those flying Sikorsky products to determine their near- and longer-term provisioning needs.

UAG is a proven leader in the rotary wing industry and is well positioned to provide the support that the S-61 community requires. Please contact UAG directly with any questions and thank you for your continued appreciation of our Sikorsky product.
